Business Management System

A BMS is a collection of tools, processes, procedures and infrastructure that allows a business to better utilise its resources to adapt more effectively to its environment and deliver a better outcome for its customers. A BMS looks at all aspects of a business, from strategy to execution, and endeavour to fit all the piece of the puzzle on its rightful place.

People	Process	Suppliers & Customers	Policies & Procedures	Systems

01 CREATION

BMS Creation

To create a new BMS, T.A.S. Group will first work to understand the organisation needs and then present recommendations. Some of the most common approaches are Gap Analysis and Business Process review.

02 IMPLEMENTATION

BMS Implementation

A lot of companies have difficulties in implementing new processes when establishing management systems. With our services, we provide not just recommendations on how to implement management systems, but also technical assistance to help you get things done. Our management system consultants have large amounts of experience in assisting our clients establishing and implementing their management systems.

03 MAINTENANCE

BMS Maintenance

Many of our small to mid-size clients retain our services on an ongoing basis to protect the significant investment made in their management system, reduce their overhead and eliminate the need for full-time staff and associated expenses. This allows them to focus on growing their business and achieving the desired return of their management system investment. Your company will be assigned a dedicated and experienced management system professional, who will remain close enough to you to ensure the BMS stays current and adapted to your needs and/or changes on regulations. If you have an existing BMS in place, our consultants will work with you to understand your organisation's operation and its management system goals and objectives.

Benefits of a BMS

Provide a business health check

Is there an aspect that is being neglected and shouldn't?

Unlock Efficiency

Overtime, your employees might have taken on T.A.S.ks that are hungry for time but poor in value. Automating or simplifying some T.A.S.ks will bring freedom to focus on the core business.

Align Systems and Processes, Procedures and Policies

This will help ensure each part of the business works together and not against one another.